Overview

Barclays is a British universal bank. We are diversified by business, by different types of customers and clients, and geography. Our businesses include consumer banking and payments operations around the world, as well as a top-tier, full service, global corporate and investment bank, all of which are supported by our service company which provides technology, operations and functional services across the Group. For further information about Barclays, please visit our website https://home.barclays/.

Barclays' US subsidiaries and non-branch businesses are organized under an Intermediate Holding Company (IHC), Barclays US LLC (BUSLLC), in order to meet the legal requirements established by Regulation YY of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (the Board). The IHC became operational on July 1, 2016 and its key operating subsidiaries include Barclays Capital Inc. (BCI) and Barclays Bank Delaware (BBDE). Barclays Group US Inc. (BGUS) is a bank holding company that holds substantially all of the IHC's subsidiaries. BCI is our Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), registered securities broker-dealer and Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC), registered Futures Commission Merchant (FCM), and operates key investment banking and capital markets businesses within Barclays' Corporate and Investment Bank Business Offering. BBDE is our US Insured Depository Institution (IDI) regulated by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), and operates our US Consumer Bank business within Barclays' Cards and Payments business offering.

The IHC has been subject to the US Net Stable Funding Ratio (NSFR) minimum requirement of 100% as of July 1, 2021. In October 2019, the Federal Reserve Board, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), and the FDIC (collectively, the US Bank Regulators) finalized rules that provide for tailored application of certain capital, liquidity and stress testing requirements across different categories of banking institutions (Tailoring Rule). As a Category III IHC with total weighted Short Term Wholesale Funding of less than $75bn, Barclays' IHC is eligible for a lower minimum NSFR required stable funding requirement of 85%. This IHC NSFR for the quarterly periods ending March 31, 2026 and June 30, 2026 is reported based on an 85% required stable funding requirement.

US Net Stable Funding Ratio

The NSFR is a balance sheet metric and requires Barclays to maintain a stable funding profile in relation to the composition of the firm's assets and off-balance sheet commitments. A sustainable funding structure is intended to reduce the likelihood that disruptions to Barclays' regular sources of funding would compromise its funding stability and liquidity position in a way that would increase the risk of its failure and potentially lead to broader systemic stress. The NSFR limits overreliance on short-term wholesale funding, encourages better assessment of funding risk across all on and off-balance sheet items, and promotes funding stability.

NSFR is calculated by dividing the Available Stable Funding (ASF) numerator by the Required Stable Funding (RSF) denominator and is expressed as a percentage amount.

Available Stable Funding (numerator)

The ASF numerator is measured by aggregating the appropriate ASF amount calculated for all recognized liabilities and regulatory capital (collectively ASF items) at the relevant reporting date. An ASF amount determined for an ASF item is measured by multiplying the accounting value of the ASF item by a specified ASF factor, which is a specific percentage between 0-100% based on the reliability and stability of the item as a funding source as defined by the ASF category.

The US Bank Regulators have set ASF factors to reflect the stability of liabilities across three dimensions:

- Funding tenor: NSFR is generally calibrated such that longer-term liabilities are assumed to be more stable than short term liabilities; and
- Funding type: NSFR is calibrated under the assumption that a stable retail deposit or retail sweep deposit, are more stable than other liability types.
- Counterparty type: NSFR is calibrated under the assumption that certain types of counterparties are more stable than others. For example, a financial sector liability is generally considered less stable than one from a non-financial sector counterparty.

Note that no ASF is recognized for off balance items such as facilities which have been provided to Barclays and non-cash collateral that has been received as part of a securities financing transaction or derivative trade.

Required Stable Funding (denominator)

The RSF denominator is measured by aggregating the appropriate RSF amounts for all recognized assets and off balance sheet commitments (collectively RSF items), as well as derivatives amounts, at the relevant Barclays reporting date. A weighted RSF amount is determined by multiplying the accounting value of the RSF item by a defined RSF factor, which is a specific percentage between 0-100% based on liquidity characteristics as defined by the RSF category. This weighted RSF amount is then multiplied by the respective Adjustment Percentage to determine the total RSF amount.

The US Bank Regulators have set RSF factors based upon the following liquidity characteristics:

- Asset tenor: NSFR requires more stable funding for assets with longer tenors, while short-dated assets (maturing in less than one year) require a smaller proportion of stable funding; and
- Encumbrance: Under NSFR, whether an asset is encumbered and the extent of the encumbrance dictates the amount of stable funding required to support the particular asset.
- Counterparty Classification: NSFR generally requires a covered company to maintain more aggregate stable funding to support certain lending to non-financial counterparties than for lending to financial counterparties.
- Credit quality: NSFR generally requires greater aggregate stable funding with respect to assets of lower credit quality, to reduce the risk that in the event of having to dispose of such an asset prior to maturity a covered company may have to monetize it at a discount.
- Market characteristics: NSFR generally requires less aggregate stable funding for holdings of such assets compared to those traded in markets characterized by information asymmetry and relatively few participants.

The US Bank Regulators have implemented public disclosure requirements for the NSFR to promote market discipline by providing the public with comparable liquidity information about covered companies. The requirement to disclose applies to all depository institution holding companies and covered nonbank financial companies that are subject to the NSFR. The disclosure requires a quantitative and qualitative summary on a semi-annual basis.

Barclays IHC has consistently demonstrated a strong NSFR; it is required to maintain a 100% minimum ratio on an 85% RSF basis, with a 1Q 2026 average of 131% and a 2Q 2026 average of 140%. Barclays IHC's available stable funding is well diversified across capital, retail, and wholesale funding, while the primary source of the IHC's required funding are reverse repurchase agreements in Barclays Capital Inc and credit card loans in Barclays Bank Delaware. The 9% increase in 2Q 2026 was primarily driven by a decrease in RSF due to lower balances in Other Assets following the sale of a cards portfolio completed in April 2026.

Funding Sources

The IHC maintains a funding profile that is diversified across a range of funding types and tenors. The IHC closely manages its short and long term liquidity needs and risks in the normal course of business and under different stress scenarios. The primary sources of funding for the IHC are secured funding transactions, senior and subordinated unsecured debt, retail and brokered deposits, a credit card securitization program, and shareholders' equity. Secured funding transactions are mainly collateralized by HQLA securities. The primary usages of secured funding in the IHC are securities borrowing transactions and the funding of the firm's portfolio of investment securities.

Retail and brokered deposit products provide a stable source of funding for the IHC's credit card and consumer loan business operating in BBDE. Additional long-term funding for the bank entity is provided through a credit card securitization program.

Additional unsecured funding needs for the IHC are met through debt and equity issued to the IHC's parent, Barclays Bank PLC (BBPLC) and issuance of commercial paper by IHC's key operating subsidiary BCI. These sources are used to support the cash needs of the IHC's businesses and fund the IHC's liquidity buffer.
